LECTURER TALKS ON AGRICULTURE IN THE SCHOOLS

J. G. GIBSON ILLUSTRATES EXCELLENT ADDRESS WITH STEREOPTICAN VIEWS OF SCHOOL GROUNDS THROUGHOUT PROVINCE

SCHOOL CHILDREN SING PLEASINGLY

Experimental Farm Executive Calls Lecture Most Important He Has Heard in Sidney

An interested audience gathered in the Berquist hall last Thursday evening to hear Mr. J. W. Gibson give his interesting lecture "Agriculture: Its Place and Object in Public and High School Life."

The lecture was preceded by the Sidney school children singing popular and patriotic songs. The children were led by Mrs. Whiting at the piano. The singing of "O Canada," "The Maple Leaf," "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag," "Tipperary," etc., met with hearty and well-deserved applause, remarks were heard on every hand of the marked improvement that had taken place since the last occasion Sidney was favored with the school children's singing.

Mr. L. Stevenson in a few and appropriate words introduced the speaker of the evening Mr. Gibson.

The lecturer remarked at the outset the difficulty with which he was faced, he had been invited to address the members of the Women's Institute and their friends and he found that a considerable part of his audience were children. He spoke of his love of and long association with school work. He felt that we needed more than ever to get rid of the common and erroneous ideas regarding education illustrating his point by the story of Prof. Bailey who on one occasion asked a class of school boys for the definition of an educated man. One of the boys readily held up his hand for the answer which was "a man that don't work." Not only had we to rid our minds of such ideas but also that education was not all book learning, the outdoor life was the first class for the child, here he can learn lessons from nature never to be forgotten, nature study leads on to studies in the sciences. In order that those present could gain some idea what was being done in the province along the lines of agriculture in the public and high schools a number of lantern slides were shown and a very creditable showing was made of the excellent

Rubber Roofing Company Contemplates Expansion

PROVIDING ADEQUATE WATER SUPPLY CAN BE SECURED IN SIDNEY AT REASONABLE RATE COMPANY WILL ADD UNIT TO PLANT FOR MANUFACTURE OF RAG FELT AND BUILDING PAPER, INVOLVING INVESTMENT OF $150,000.

That the Sidney Rubber Roofing company is seriously considering the addition to its present factory adjoining the V. & S. tracks, this city, another unit for the purpose of manufacturing rag felt and building paper, was stated to a Review representative on Monday by Mr. R. W. Mayhew, manager of the concern. Mr. Mayhew said that all that now stands in the way of the contemplated addition to the plant is the inadequate water supply in Sidney, and that if the town can promise sufficient water at a reasonable rate, the felt and building paper unit of the factory will be completed and running within six months. The buildings and machinery of the new unit will involve an investment of about $150,000, and will furnish employment to 35 men, in addition to those already working at the factory. Of this number 9 will be skilled workmen.

WOULD UTILIZE WASTE PRODUCTS

Mr. Mayhew stated that rags and waste paper are now waste products throughout the province, and that it is the plan of his company, when the new factory is erected, to buy up all the rags and waste paper it is possible to obtain in British Columbia. The rags will be used for the manufacture of felt, and the paper, with a certain amount of pulp added, will be used for the building paper.

Rag felt is used very largely in the manufacture of roofing, and at present is being secured by the company from Quebec. The material comes in large rolls, weighing from 480 to 600 pounds. When the plant was visited by the Review representative Monday, saturated roofing felt was being manufactured. This material is used in the construction of "built-up" roofs, and is made by passing the felt through a bath of melted asphalt. The original roll is unwound, the felt passing through the asphalt and between large rollers, which remove all surplus. It then is wound around a series of cooling drums, and latterly is wound around a mandrel to which is attached a measuring indicator. When sufficient has been rolled up to make 108 square feet, the felt is cut and a new roll started. Before being rolled up the freshly saturated felt is dusted with powdered soapstone, which prevents its sticking together in the rolls.

HEAVIER FELT FOR ROOFING

Roofing is manufactured by a process similar, though more complicated. A heavier grade of felt is used, and this is covered with a heavy coating of a specially prepared asphaltum and a layer of gravel. With each roll of roofing is enclosed a tin of cement and a carton of nails. The capacity of the plant is 500 rolls of 108 square feet surface per day.

The company manufactures all its various grades of asphaltum for saturations and coatings from California crude oil, which it imports specially for the purpose. This oil is refined on the premises in a refining plant which consists of two stills, one condenser and five run-down tanks. Through the process of distillation a number of products are obtained from the oil, including three grades of automobile cylinder oil, a chain oil, a skid oil for logging camps, a transmission grease and a distillate. All these products are sold in bulk on the Vancouver market.

SOUTH PACIFIC MARKETS SUPPLIED

Roofing is manufactured for the New Zealand and Australian as well as the British Columbia markets, and the company warehouse at present contains about 250 tons of the finished product, which is awaiting a vessel to transport it to the land of the kangaroo.

Mr. Mayhew stated that the company now does as much business in any one month as prior to war it did in a whole year, and this in spite of the fact that it has never had a dollar's worth of war business.

PROMOTING COOPERATIVE COLONY

Mr. O. D. Ranks, who is connected with the powder factory on James Island, was a visitor to Sidney on Sunday last. Mr. Ranks is promoting a cooperative agricultural colony which is being formed at Hardy Bay, on the mainland, just opposite the north end of Vancouver Island. He states that the soil and climate of the section are exceptionally good, as the rainfall is not excessive, the snowfall light, and the land composed mostly of a black loam containing much decayed vegetable matter. Already thirteen settlers are on the land, and more are expected soon.

TRADE BOARD MEETING TONIGHT

A special meeting of the Sidney Board of Trade will be held this evening at Mr. S. Roberts' office, Beacon avenue, to receive the report of Messrs. W. H. Dawes and J. J. White, the committee sent by the board to Victoria Monday to interview Premier John Oliver with regard to sanitation in this city. Other matters of import will also be considered by the boost body.

James Island Powder Plant To Be Enlarged

Of great importance to Sidney will be the removal of the larger portion of the Nanaimo plant of the Canadian Explosives, Limited to James Island and its consolidation with the company's plant already established there. It is understood that a daily boat service will be operated between the island and the local wharf, and that the principal part of the company's business will be transacted through this city, which will serve as a shipping and receiving point.

In briefly touching upon the plans of the company at the Empress Hotel, Victoria, Mr. P. B. Yancey, acting general manager of the concern, stated that within six weeks or so the bulk of the plant used at the Victoria Chemical Works and the Nanaimo plant would be transferred to James Island. With no further great demand for T. N. T., the company proposes to increase its output of commercial explosives.

W. I. Entertainment Plan is Enlarged

The Sidney Women's Institute has altered its plan for entertaining the returned soldiers on the evening of St. Patrick's day, Monday, March 17, and instead of giving only a dance, as originally planned, will offer to guests the added variety of a military 500 card party. Following cards, dancing will be indulged in, alternating with musical numbers, which will be furnished by a pierrot troupe consisting of five ladies and three Comrades of the Great War. The troupe will be under the supervision of Comrade G. Ingledew, who was formerly a resident of Sidney. The entertainers are highly recommended.

No admission will be charged returned men, but in order to defray expenses, a nominal charge will be levied upon all others. Refreshments will be served, and the Review has been asked to state that the attending ladies are requested to bring sandwiches, cakes, etc.

Institute President Asks Park Suggestions

Mr. Editor,
Dear Sir:
I should like to call attention of the Residents of Sidney to the fact that the trees in the park situated on Marine Drive are being cut down. Now I feel sure the people who are doing this are not aware that they are spoiling the only park we have. May I ask for the sake of the children that they desist.

In the near future the Women's Institute purpose asking the residents to help them to make this beautiful bit of sea front and bush a real place of beauty and recreation.

It is not generally known that we have a park here. Is it too much to ask the residents now the brighter days are coming to walk this far and send in suggestions as to what would be best to do? Some have thought it might form a suitable place to put a war memorial of some kind. Anyway let us know what you think. Our secretary, Mrs. Halsey, Mt. Baker avenue, will be glad to put any suggestion before the members.

Thanking you, dear sir, for this privilege,
I am yours truly,
Mrs. M. Simister,
Pres. W. I.

Former Sidney Teacher Honored at Ladysmith

Miss Margaret Glen, who about three years ago was a member of the Sidney schools faculty and was very popular in this community, has just been honored at Ladysmith, in company with other volunteer nurses and attendants who rendered brave and untiring service during the recent epidemic, by the presentation of a handsome brooch fashioned of dull gold, showing a cross in the centre and suitably engraved.

The presentation was made by Mr. Thomas Spruston, superintendent of the Extension mines, who fittingly expressed the gratitude of the citizens for the service rendered by the volunteers in his address accompanying the presentation of the mementoes.

PREMIER PROMISES ABATEMENT OF DITCH EVILS

TRADE-BOARD DELEGATION LAYS SANITATION EVILS BEFORE HON. JOHN OLIVER

IMMEDIATE ACTION URGED

Province's Chief Executive Suggests Incorporation Would Facilitate Solution of Civic Betterment Problems

As announced in last week's issue the delegation appointed at the last meeting of the board of trade, met the Hon. John Oliver in his office on Saturday morning. Mr. W. H. Dawes was the spokesman and very briefly he went over the many efforts that had been made during the past two years to get the Health Department and the Public Works Department to take some action in regard to insanitary conditions in Sidney.

The question was presented as one needing immediate attention, the recent promise of the Public Works department that the ditches would receive careful attention this season, did not meet the case, the Indian encampment to which notice was drawn last week was also dealt with. Mr. J. J. White brought it to notice of the premier that the people of Sidney had at their own expense provided a drain along Beacon avenue from Fifth street to the water front, the government supplying the pipes.

In the discussion of the question Mr. Oliver spoke of the advantage of questions of this character being handled locally, advancing the proposition of local government, its superiority to the central office taking care of difficulties similar to Sidney.

Mr. J. J. White, president of the Sidney Board of Trade, stated that he had been brought in the past when over 800 of the assessment owners had voted for it, but had been turned down. Mr. Oliver gave a very careful consideration to the complaint and discussed the question fully, and the delegation were able to leave with the assurance that some immediate action would be taken that the evils brought to his notice should not continue.

A notable addition has been made to the staff of the Sidney Trading company. Miss Clarke, of Bazaan Bay, commenced duty there in the grocery department last week.

WHY WE ARE SMALL

We trust that Review readers, who no doubt will be surprised at the bob-tailed appearance of the paper this week, will be charitable when they learn that the reduction was made necessary upon the discovery by the present management that a substantial portion of our Victoria advertisements were being published either without authority of the advertisers, or upon exchange propositions which afforded no bread and butter to the Review. Consequently, as a matter of economy, reduction of the size of the paper became imperative, as we could not see our way clear to carry a lot of dead-head ads. simply to camouflage our lack of avoidrups.

To be obliged to offer such a reason as the foregoing is, to say the least, somewhat embarrassing. But after consideration we have decided that it is better so, than to offer no explanation whatever, thus leaving the matter to the conjecture of the public, who, we are sure, will be quick to recognize that no blame attaches to the present management. It is our aim as rapidly as the securing of bona fide advertisements will permit, to build the Review up to its former size. Meanwhile, we trust our readers will find that in spite of our curtailed space we will do full justice to the news of the community.

THE ORIENTAL PROBLEM

In a recent issue of the Nanaimo Free Press published an editorial protesting against the presence of the oriental in British Columbia. That the presence of Japs, Chinese and Hindoos in the logging, fishing and mill industries is not to be desired by the masses seems to be recognized by the Free Press, and it is refreshing to find at least one journal with backbone enough to raise its voice against the oriental evil. Says our up-coast contemporary:

"The general feeling is that the orientals are preferred by employers because they are cheaper and more easily controlled. The provincial government whose function it is to take care of social as distinct from industrial development, seem to hesitate about pressing for a solution in the proper quarter. Their minimum wage bill is understood to be an attempt to approach the question from the economic side, as it is supposed that employers would always prefer white labor if oriental labor cost as much. This method of dealing with the problem, however does not seem fair to industry in B. C., unless it is followed up simultaneously throughout the whole of Canada. Otherwise the industries of this province would be placed under a heavy handicap as compared with the east. The wage question, like the race question itself is a national or perhaps an international, rather than a provincial problem. Even a minimum wage would not settle the standing of the oriental as regards citizenship.

"The oriental question is one of citizenship and social equality. We may all admire the fine qualities of the Chinese and Japanese in themselves, but the question is whether they can ever enter into the social life of Canada on equal terms, with full rights to settle and inter-marry with Canadians. If they can, then there is no oriental problem, and neither the provincial government nor any trade union has the right to discriminate against them. But if, on the other hand the oriental is not assimilable, or if his admission would result in turning B. C. into an oriental province, then the legislature ought surely to take a definite stand and urge the Dominion or Imperial government, or the Peace Conference itself, to come to some understanding with China and Japan. In the meantime progress in B. C. is hampered at every stage by this unsettled problem."

The oriental question is one about which the people of British Columbia are thinking much and the newspapers are saying little. The contention of the big employers that they cannot conduct their industries without the brown men from across the Pacific is not supported by facts: the same industries elsewhere on the Pacific coast are thriving under the propulsion of white labor.

As the Free Press implies, the question is not alone industrial but is also social. Not only does the presence of the oriental mitigate against the facility with which the white wage earner can supply bread to his dependents. It mitigates against the moral, intellectual and civic welfare of any community in which he is to be found. Living according to a different code of morals and a different standard of culture from those of the Anglo Saxon race, and with the ideals of civic betterment absent from his intellect, the oriental in substantial numbers in any community is not calculated to be an edifying or a progressive influence. It is true that the Hindoos, Chinese and Japs all did valiant work in the world-war for the preservation of liberty and democracy, but their part was, nevertheless, but the struggle to prevent eventual Germanization of their own countries, and should not entitle them to equal rights with Anglo-Saxons in an Anglo-Saxon land.

The question of whether the oriental is assimilable by the Canadian people is too preposterous for serious consideration. A lesson may be taken from those portions of the United States where negroes have intermarried with whites, as the offspring of these marriages of miscegenation invariably exhibit most of the weak and immoral characteristics of both their parents, and few of the good traits of either. They are usually moral idiots and physical degenerates. And it may be safely assumed that wholesale intermarriage of orientals and whites would be prolific in similar results.

When the oriental has reached the moral and intellectual level of the Anglo-Saxon it will be time enough to begin to forget his physical dissimilarities and think of assimilation, but he has a long road to travel, and, doubtless, in the interim the Anglo-Saxon will not have been standing still. In the meantime, the brown or yellow man is entitled to consideration in his proper sphere, which is Asia, and where he has yet ample room to expand.

The argument which is often advanced that the East Indian cannot be excluded from British territory because he is a British subject has little to support it. The Kafir of South Africa is a British subject, but any attempt to import him wholesale to British Columbia for labor purposes would be met by the indignation of an outraged populace, because he does not belong here. And neither does the oriental belong here: he does not belong side by side with the Canadian working man nor in the midst of the Canadian community, and his children do not belong side by side with those of the Canadian citizen in the public schools. Wherever the oriental is found in numbers, immoral and sanitary conditions prevail and civic spirit is absent.

There is little doubt that the oriental problem in British Columbia will be solved speedily, when popular indignation has reached the proper pitch, through the intelligent use of the plebiscite.

LECTURER TALKS ON AGRICULTURE IN SCHOOLS

work being accomplished in other parts of the province. Some of the pictures portrayed some very fine school buildings and schools grounds, but in other parts, very rough conditions had been overcome by the children lead on by the determination of their teachers, and some truly remarkable results had been achieved.

Mr. L. Stevenson in thanking Mr. Gibson for his address, stated it was the best and most important he had heard in Sidney, he drew the attention of the boys to the fact that not one picture had been shown of Sidney. He also stated that the would be devoted to prizes. He very generously offered $5.00 for a special prize.

Mr. Ed Blackburn in moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Gibson spoke of his surplus of the collection taken at the door prize of the advancement that had been made in many of the places shown, speaking of his acquaintance with them in earlier days. He was supported by the Rev. E. A. Stevenson, who mentioned his interest and long association with agriculture, being a farmer's son. He expressed regret that there were not more present and drew attention to the fact that there was not one of the school trustees present. The singing of "God Save the King" closed the meeting.

Members of the house of commons want an increase of $500 per annum—$2,500 is not enough—"to make both ends meet." Eighteen Liberal members of the legislature visited Vancouver recently. This is a step in the right direction. We wonder how many members have ever visited Sidney or know where it is.

The Royal Canadian Regiment and the 42 Battalion of the Third division left Liverpool on the S. S. Adriatic. These are the first units to leave the United Kingdom and arrived at Halifax March 8. As the ship pulled out of the Mersey, the band played, "O Canada," and "The Maple Leaf."

One hundred twenty-five thousand three hundred and seventy-six farmers joined the Canadian army.

Order is being maintained in the City of Berlin by the presence of large forces of military. It is evident that the Germans cannot get along without the iron heel.

A big scheme which involves the irrigation of 350,000 acres of land in Alberta has been presented to the board of directors of the United Farmers. The grand total up to the end of February of soldiers and dependents, who have sailed from England amounts to 76,999.

A well-known citizen remarked after the big show in Sidney week before last, "That it was not a bit like Sidney in 1913. It was much too dry."

Alderman W. A. McAdam, of Duncan, has been elected Publicity Commissioner of Victoria and Island Development association. We shall expect to see something doing along the lines of Vancouver Island development now.

SALT SPRING CADET TAKES VICTORIA GIRL AS BRIDE

A very quiet wedding took place on Friday at Christ Church Cathedral, when Miss Margaret Lort, youngest daughter of the late Mr. John A. Lort, of Victoria, was married to Cadet Wilfrid Sharpe, M. M., of Ganges, Salt Spring Island, Rev. Dean Quainton officiating. The bride wore a becoming costume of taffeta embroidered in French blue, with hat in the same colors. She entered the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. A. H. Ackroyd, who gave her away. After the ceremony the immediate friends of the young couple attended the reception held at the home of Mrs. Rolston, Menzies street. Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe left on the afternoon boat for Seattle, where their honeymoon will be spent. The groom has only recently returned from overseas. He won his decoration at Vimy Ridge, and at Passchendaele a bar was added to his medal.

SAINT LOUIS FUR EXCHANGE BUYS DIRECT FROM TRAPPER

Due to certain complaints being brought to the notice of the St. Louis Fur Exchange, 7th and Chestnut Streets, Missouri, of unsatisfactory grading of furs as made by some of the advertising fur houses of that market, where in January over ten million dollars worth of furs were sold, they are now also receiving shipments of furs from the trapper direct, and are recognized and registered under licence P. B. F 30 with the U. S. War Trade board and all of the collectors of customs, thus insuring free passage of furs when addressed to them with the words "Raw Furs of Canadian origin" on the package or shipping tag. Their advertisement appears on page 5.

THE TELEPHONE INFORMATION GIRL IS HUMAN

We had a complaint the other day that "Telephone Information" could not answer a question regarding a person's phone number, she having replied that there was no listing under the name mentioned. It was finally ascertained from the enquirer that the person wanted lived in a furnished house and the telephone was listed under the owner's name, not under the name of the tenant. Consequently Information could not oblige, as she had no record showing who occupied the house.

If a person has a telephone, you will find that Information can always give you the number. Her aim is to help you.
